A Law Firm That's in Motion for You

Technology and the law move fast. But so do we.

The legal team of Hagan Noll & Boyle has built its practice around intellectual property law and labor and employment law. We work tirelessly to protect the rights of copyright holders and innovators and the interests of businesses on the cutting edge.

If protection of assets and innovation are at the heart of your business, you need a law firm that not only understands what you do but also what's at stake when you litigate.

HNB's lawyers regularly handle high-stakes complex cases that involve the protection of copyrights, theft of intellectual property and business disputes. They have secured significant awards and judgments for their clients.

Just as important, we also represent companies and individuals in an array of employment matters. HNB supports clients who need experienced and knowledgeable representation. The firm represents companies of all sizes and executives at all levels in every phase of litigation and arbitration.

HNB is pleased to announce that Joseph Boyle and David Noll have been selected to the 2014 Super Lawyers list and that Chad Hagan is once again a Rising Stars honoree.
